Weekly Principal Message

Dear Students and Families,

Next week is our last week of January before February arrives! This week we had a delayed start on Thursday due to snow and this caused us to reschedule our planetarium experience until February 3rd. This upcoming week has some potentially tricky weather patterns that may amount to delays or cancellations. However, Tuesday we will have extended recess to allow for additional sledding time!

Last week students finished their i-Ready Diagnostic in Math. Individual student reports will go home next week and this week you should have received reports detailing students' performance on NWEA. As a reminder, we use these benchmarks to help create action plans for students, but a test does not solely define a student's ability or performance. We are very pleased with the results. In fact, The Maine Department of Education celebrated Union Elementary for the significant growth our students have demonstrated in reading achievement in third grade!

Next week fourth graders begin their annual learn to ski/snowboard program with Camden Snow Bowl on Wednesday, third grade has ice skating on Thursday, and fifth graders will venture to Portland to experience the Gulf of Maine Research Institute in a special field trip. There is lots of excitement happening.

Wishing everyone an enjoyable weekend on this particularly cold one!

In partnership,

Dr. Rankin, Principal

Cold and flu season is here!

While we always prefer that students attend school every day, it is important that children stay home when they are unable to learn due to feeling unwell or are contagious.

There are simple procedures we can all take to limit the spread of illness during this time. Please remind your child to wash their hands often and cover coughs and sneezes. Talk to your child's health care provider about precautions. Some guidelines from our health staff for attending school include:

Vomiting, diarrhea: A child with these conditions should be kept at home until symptoms have resolved for 12 hours and the child is able to keep down food and liquid. Consult your doctor if fever and stomach pains persist or your child appears dehydrated.

Cold, sore throat, cough: Children average six to eight colds per year. If cold and cough symptoms are associated with a fever or they do not readily improve, call your doctor. Your child may attend school if there is no fever.

Fever: Your child may attend school with a temperature less than 100 degrees. A child should be fever free, without the use of medication for 24 hours before returning to school.

If a student attends school with any of the above symptoms, school personnel may call a parent/guardian and ask that the child be taken out of school.

Parents/guardians are asked to furnish the school with the name and telephone number of two people the school may contact in an emergency if parents/guardians cannot be reached.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact the school nurse, Michele Cooney, at 785-4330 or your child's doctor. Together we can keep our students and staff healthy and in school.
