What Families Need to Know

You may be protected under the McKinney-Vento Act!

Children and youth in temporary housing have the right to:

- Stay in the same school even if the family moves
- Receive help with transportation to/from school
- Enroll in a new school immediately, without the usually required documentation
- Receive free meals at school
- Access early childhood services like Head Start
- Get help with accessing school supplies
- Receive extra support for youth who are unaccompanied

McKinney-Vento Education in Maine

McKinney-Vento protections apply to all public school students, Pre-K through grade 12 who “lack a fixed, regular and adequate nighttime residence”, including children and youth:

- Sharing housing due to loss of housing or economic hardship
- Living in motels, hotels, trailer parks or camping grounds due to lack of alternative adequate housing
- Living in emergency or transitional housing
- Abandoned in hospitals
- Having a primary nighttime residence that is a public or private place not designed for, or ordinarily used as, regular sleeping accommodations
- Living in cars, parks, public spaces, abandoned buildings, substandard housing, bus or train stations
- Migratory students meeting the descriptions above

Unaccompanied Youth

Defined as youth not in the physical custody of a parent or guardian, runaways and school-aged unwed mothers also qualify as unaccompanied youth. These unaccompanied youth must be allowed to enroll in school immediately.

What Your Family Can Do Before You Move

- Tell your child's teacher and principal that your child is moving and give them the new address.
- Let school officials know if you want your child to stay in his/her home school while you are getting the family stabilized.
- Ask for a copy of your child's school records, including immunizations.

Tips for Families Who Move Often

- Keep a copy of birth certificates and school records accessible.
- Safeguard all health and immunization records.
- Have a reliable person keep a second copy of all family members' birth certificates, school records, and health information.
- Enroll children in school as soon as possible.

Every school district in Maine has a McKinney-Vento liaison to help students in temporary housing.
